Enjoy the restaurants, bars, discos casinos, water sports and golf. From Faro, the capital of the province, all the way through to Sagres, the town where Prince Henry established his school of Navigation, there's lots of interest in the area.

The gastronomy alone is worth visiting the Algarve. Delicious grilled sardines are a must as is succulent lobster and other steamed shell fish. Followed by a typical Algarve dessert made of almonds and figs, all washed down with a scrumptious wine from Lagoa and/or delicious arbutus-berry brandy.

Handicrafts: the secular traditions are maintained in the ceramics, basketry, hand-made woven goods, hammered copper etc. offering a genuine souvenir of your vacation
